

Odious™ Lists Instructions

Gameplay

- To start, each player should have a packet of lists, a blank sheet, and a pen.
1. To start a round, everybody should be on the same list (so, for example, everybody could start on OdiousList #1).
 2. Roll the alphabet die to choose a letter.
 3. Once a letter is chosen, begin the round by starting the timer.
 4. For each category on the sheet, fill in something that starts with the chosen letter that fits into that category. Use the same letter to start your answer for all six categories in the list. Your answer can be a word, phrase, sentence, sound, or anything that may fit that category.

Scoring - Option 1

1. At the end of each round, everybody takes turns reading their answer for the first category out loud. Players get points for any answer that fits the category that did not match any other player's answer.
2. Disputes: if there is a disagreement over whether or not an answer should count for a category there's a vote on whether or not it should be included. Majority rules. Tie goes to the scumbag.

Scoring - Option 2

1. Before the round starts, choose one person to be the judge. The judge doesn't fill out answers for that round. Play with your phone or something.
2. When the round is over, players take turns reading their answers to the judge. The judge chooses their favorite.

Winning

The winner is the player with the most points after three rounds. Or after however many rounds you feel like playing. Fuck it, we're millennials...

EVERYONE'S A WINNER!
